Favor Ma-Me-O Beach as Site for Provincial Park

A very interesting and enjoyable meeting of the Wetaskiwin Board of Trade and the Wetaskiwin Kiwanis Club, took place on Monday evening, at the Elks, when P. J. Giffen, business manager of the Edmonton Journal, gave a very interesting address on "The Human Interest in Radio."

The President, W. Prest, who occupied the chair, informed the meeting that Messrs. Seymour and Pratt of the Town Planning Commission, had inspected Ma-Me-O Beach, and thought very favorably of this location as a provincial park site.

Ald. Ellis brought up the question of having the summer resorts of Mammo and Mullhuller adjoined by a good highway, and thought this would be a good opportunity to interview the government to have this work done at this time to relieve some of the unemployment. It was decided that the Board of Trade ask the government to set aside a sufficient sum and take steps to have this road opened up and gravelled. H. J. Montgomery, M.L.A., stated that he would be pleased to take this matter up with the government and do what he could to have this work done. A resolution was also unanimously passed, asking the Public Works Department to erect a steel bridge over the Pipestone Creek, to replace the wooden one, which is now in a dangerous condition.

Mr. Prest also reported that good progress was being made with the illustrated pamphlet for publicity purposes, and it would soon be ready for the printers.

Mr. Giffen gave a very interesting address on the different phases of radio, and his talk was greatly enjoyed. He described radio as being the up-to-date method of flashing news through space, and stated that radio waves travel at a speed of 300,000 kilometres per second. He described Marconi's experiment and success in his first attempt to speak from Glace Bay, N.S., to Ireland, and he believed that no invention of the past century has done so much to revolutionize science as has radio. He also stated that many steamships today were not guided by compass, but are now steered by wireless. A steamer being tracked and visible to use its compass owing to cloudy skies is easily directed by wireless from shore stations.

The Edmonton Journal installed the first broadcasting station in Alberta, and the second in Canada. There is now $1,270,000 invested in radio equipment in Canada.

In the heart of New York City, $250,000,000 will be expended in the next three years, and in 1933 the finest equipment in the world will be located there, and four theatres will be completed which will give the best of entertainment to the people throughout the world. When in Montreal a short time ago, he saw an instrument which transmitted 900 words per minute on one wave length. Mr. Giffen also referred to telephotography and stated that the daily papers were getting almost daily pictures for publication from distant points, through the air. He prophesied that inside of ten years, telegrams will be delivered in the handwriting of the sender. Radio television will also have a tremendous effect on education. Today it is difficult to get trained teachers for country schools, and it is not hard to imagine school boards getting television sets and by this means the best brains of the country could be used to educate the world. Radio will also be of tremendous importance in maintaining world peace, as when nations can talk with each other through the air, war will become a bugaboo.

MRS. SOPER WINS TITLE OF FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—In her first season in the Arctic Mrs. J. Dewey Soper, wife of Dr. Soper, ornithologist of the North West Territories and Yukon branch, has earned the title "Florence Nightingale of the Arctic," through her work among sick Eskimos, according to returning members of the 1930 Canadian Arctic expedition.

Government officials who have reached Ottawa after the return to North Sydney of the steamer Boethic related the splendid service Mrs. Soper, who is a graduate nurse, has rendered, at Lake Harbor, Baffin Island, where an epidemic of influenza was making inroads on the native population at the time she arrived there to take up residence for two years with her husband and three-year-old son, Ronald.

Mrs. Soper is a graduate of the Mount public hospital and is one of only eight white persons in the northern settlement, while the nearest doctor is 500 miles distant. Young and vivacious Mrs. Soper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freeman of Wetaskiwin, and lived in Edmonton following her marriage when she was not accompanying her husband on some of his arduous exploration trips.

SUCCESSFUL FARMER IN FALUN DISTRICT

In the community surrounding Wetaskiwin, there are many very successful and prosperous farmers, but we doubt if anyone has been more successful during the past summer than Frank Shippert of Falun district, who despite the unfavorable season, a few days ago threshed the following crop of one-quarter-section of land: 950 bushels wheat, 576 bushels rye, 510 bushels barley and 1465 bushels oats. In addition to this he also pastured fifteen head of cattle and four horses. In 1929, he sold $223.80 worth of hogs, and $346.50 worth in July. He has on hand, nineteen hogs which will be ready for market in December next, and has also put up 40 tons of hay. If anyone has done better than this, this year, we want to hear from them.

CAMROSE BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION

Camrose, Oct. 2.—Structural work on the new federal public building in Camrose to be used for post office and customs purposes, is completed and it is expected that the interior work will be finished by the middle of October. There will then remain the installation of interior fittings and furniture and the building should be ready for use in another six or seven weeks. The building is a handsome structure, and adds to the appearance of Main street.

Chautauqua Staged in Great Style by Business Girls Club

The Chautauqua which was put on by the Wetaskiwin Business Girls' Club on Thursday and Friday of last week, drew large crowds to the Elks' hall and a great deal of interest was taken in the varied programs which were staged. Helen Burkholder was the announcer at each of the four programs, and her voice could be distinctly heard throughout the large building. The outstanding number on Thursday evening's program was the play "Household Economics," those taking part being Asta Vold, Major Baker, Joyce Gibson, Mary Lasell and Billy Palfrey. On Friday evening the address by Capt. H. C. McLeod of Edmonton, on "Astronomy" was of particular interest, and the large gathering listened with the closest attention, as he referred to and described a host of the heavenly bodies.

The Chautauqua was opened on Thursday afternoon by an address given by Mayor Howitt, who congratulated the Wetaskiwin business girls on their energy in carrying out such an extensive program and sponsoring such a worthy cause as the raising of funds for gymnasium purposes.

Others taking part in the program were: Polka drill, sixteen girls, directed by Gwen Cleland; Readings by Robert George, Mrs. A. MacFarlane, Mrs.

Bill Moore, Nadin Timofeev, Jean George, Dialogue, Grace Turner and Marjorie Steedman; Violin Solos, Alfred Jevne, Jr.; Dances, Jean and Robert, George, Beryl Gilchrist; Duets, Nellie and Violet Blidinger; Brevette and Yvonne Bourque, Jean and Phyllis Fullerton, Phyllis and Velma Hardy; Musical numbers, Alta Warren, Florence French, Jean and Phyllis Fullerton; Old Time Melodies, Mabel and Lillian Thompson; Sixteen Bathing Beauties, directed by Miss Hinchberger; Solos by Stewart Campbell and Beauty Chorus; Vocal solos by Jack Aldridge, Mrs. A. MacFarlane, Edward Turner; Piano solos, David Appelt, Mrs. G. A. Miller, A. C. M. Play, Junior Institute; Monologue, Florence Bergen; Group of old fashioned songs, sung by J. Thompson, N. A. MacBachern, C. J. Jacobs and Stewart Campbell; Shadow Operation, Nurses of Wetaskiwin Hospital; Canadian Folk Song, Mrs. H. J. Montgomery, Connie and Herbert Schantz; French Folk Song, L. T. Miquelon. The solo by J. Borden of Edmonton, was so well rendered that he was obliged to respond with several encores.

The members of the Wetaskiwin Business Girls' Club and all others having charge of the arrangements are to be congratulated upon their efforts in presenting such a varied and enjoyable program.

Town Topics

Mrs. Chalmers, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Regina, returned home the fore part of the week.

Mrs. W. East left a few days ago for Toronto, Ont. to visit her mother, who met with a serious auto accident recently.

The W.A. of Immanuel Church will meet at the home of Mrs. H. R. French, on Tuesday, October 14th, at 4 o'clock p.m.

Mrs. Ed. Johnson returned last week from an extended visit with relatives and friends at Portland, Ore., and Yakima, Wash.

Rev. C. J. Mackay of Edmonton, has taken charge of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and has taken up his residence at the Manse.

The flags in the city are at half mast this week, out of respect to those who lost their lives in the dirigible catastrophe in France on Sunday morning.

J. W. Somers and R. S. Murray returned a few days ago from their hunting expedition in Saskatchewan, and report having had a very enjoyable holiday.

Gertrude Kaiser met with an unfortunate accident on Friday evening last, when the horse she was riding became frightened, and she fell off, breaking her arm.

Miss Sadie K. Robinson, who has received an appointment in the School Correspondence Branch of the Department of Education, left for Edmonton on Friday last.

J. E. Fraser, city treasurer, informs us that the taxes are coming in very well, many of the citizens taking advantage of the discount offered for payment this month.

Mrs. J. I. Poole was at Red Deer last week, attending the Provincial Convention of the W.C.T.U. She was again honored by being elected as treasurer of the organization.

Rev. Mr. Armstrong, brother-in-law of Mrs. W. G. Dietz, underwent a serious operation in an Edmonton hospital a few days ago. Mrs. Dietz spent several days in the hospital with him, and the operation took place.

The name of the doll on which the L.O.B.A. sold guesses at the bazaar was Cynthia. As no one guessed correctly, the names were put in a hat and a draw taken. Mr. Adolph Laminger winning the doll.

Mrs. H. Kuring, who recently returned from Alaska with her husband, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Humble of Duhamel, and has been visiting her parents before leaving for her new home at Blueberry. Mrs. Kuring has many friends in the district, having taught school here before her marriage.

The Wetaskiwin High school rugby team has entered the league and the first game was played at Lacombe on Friday afternoon last. Lacombe won by the score of 85. We understand a game will be played in Wetaskiwin in a few days. This is the first rugby team formed here, and the public is requested to give the boys every encouragement by attending the games whenever possible.

The unfavorable weather of the past week has interfered somewhat with threshing. We are informed, however, that the crops in the western portion of the district, as well as north east, is nearly all threshed. The farmers south east have not been so fortunate. It is estimated that over 50% of the crops in the Wetaskiwin district has not been threshed. The quality of grain in most cases is very good.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Wallace returned Saturday evening, from a two months' vacation trip, spent in different parts of Ontario. Their daughter, Dora, who is nursing in New York, spent a lengthy vacation with them in Ontario. They returned via Chicago, and were accompanied by Mrs. Matchett, Mrs. Wallace's sister, who will spend some time here with them. They had a delightful outing and were both greatly benefitted in health as a result of their holiday.

Twenty relatives and friends gathered Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. William L. Niles, Almond street, to celebrate her birthday. After an enjoyable evening, refreshments were served in the rose arbor, which was decorated with flowers, flags and lights for the occasion. Her great grandsons Ward and Bert Mitchell assisted in lighting and extinguishing candles on her birthday cake. Four generations were present. During the evening Miss Frances Gooch rendered many delightful solos. — St. Catherine's Standard. (Mrs. Niles is the mother of Chet. Niles of Wetaskiwin.)

Philadelphia Athletics won the world's baseball championship by defeating St. Louis Cardinals Wednesday 7-1, winning four games to two.

G. GIBSON, AEROPLANE CRASH VICTIM, BROTHER OF MRS. ROSENROLL

The people of Ferintosh and district were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Arthur de Rosenroll's brother, Glen Gibson, which occurred on Thursday morning last when the mail plane carrying Pilot Holden, Chas. McDonald and Mr. Gibson, crashed near Brooks. The latter was on the way to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. E. Brodie, of Winnipeg. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to the wife and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. de Rosenroll moved to Moose Jaw a few months ago and have been greatly missed.— Ferintosh correspondent in Camrose Canadian.

Irvin Hinker, 24-year-old pilot, of Granum, and Harvey Menard, 20 years old, of Gleichen, a passenger, were killed at 3:18 o'clock Sunday afternoon when their plane crashed while landing in a field just east of Gleichen.

The plane was seen to stall suddenly and then to dive nose down into the ground. As it crashed it began to burn fiercely and before horrified spectators, of whom there were many, could do anything to help, the machine was engulfed by the flames. The two occupants, both of whom were presumed to have been killed in the crash, were burned beyond recognition.

Big Potatoes

Since our announcement last week, respecting large potatoes, we have heard of some exceptionally big yields this season.

L. G. Olson of the Falun district, brought in two potatoes to The Times office this week, which were well formed, one tipping the scales at two pounds, twelve ounces, and the other was nearly as large. They are of the Macgregor variety. Mr. Olson says he dug 140 bushels from less than one half acre, in a row.

Last week, Mrs. Theo. Lahl brought to the office two potatoes of the white flax variety, which were very outstanding. One weighed two and three quarters pounds, and the other two and one-half pounds. Mrs. Lahl informed us that these were the best potatoes she has ever raised. They are yielding a bushel of two and twenty-one men at one meal, when they were not all eaten up.

Ed. Peterson of the U.F.A. store, claims he has the championship potato in his possession, two potatoes being brought into him this week, one of which weighed two pounds, thirteen ounces. They were grown by O. A. Alber of Brightview.

Mrs. Wm. Kralich telephoned The Times Wednesday morning that she has a potato which will take some beating. It tips the scales at three pounds, is white, smooth and well formed and was grown on the farm three miles west of town. As this is now the heaviest potato reported, she claims the championship.

MINISTERS HOLD CONFERENCE

On Monday last the pastors of the Wetaskiwin circuit of the Missouri Lutheran Church, met here for a conference, when they were the guests of Rev. and Mrs. Appelt of Zion Congregation. Rev. W. C. Effert, the new president of the Alberta and B. C. District, was unavoidably absent.

Those who were present were the Revs. Mattier (Markerville), Natske (Alhambra), J. Ohlinger (Brightview), G. Raedeke (Camrose) and E. Zacheoche (Ferintosh). Rev. H. Kuring, who has been in charge of the Lutheran Mission in Alaska for the past three years, and who has recently accepted a call to Blueberry, Alta., attended part of the time. The conference discussed circuit matters and were gratified to note the progress made during the past twelve months. Attention was drawn to the broadcasting program of the Lutheran Laymen over WHK, Cleveland, on Thursday nights at 8 p.m. (mountain time). Last week the Cleveland Bach Chorus rendered a wonderful program.

Discussion of a paper read and prepared by Rev. Appelt on "Marriage with the deceased brother's wife," occupied part of the time at the disposal of the chief meeting, which closed at 6 p.m.

Revs. Natske, Raedeke and Kuring were accompanied by their wives, who were the guests of Mrs. Appelt.

GIRLS' INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of the Girls' Institute at the home of Mrs. Rodell, was opened in the routine way by the singing of "O Canada" and repetition of the creed. Several suggestions were given in regard to the year's work, one of which is to be a script painting.

Mrs. Rodell then read a poem "The Home of the Deaf" from The Wanderer Home Monthly, by our publicity convener, Jean Blewett. She also also told the story of "Mother's Tramp." The meeting then adjourned.

Every dog has his day, but cats have their nights.

4,406 PIECES USED TO MAKE NOVEL TABLE TOP

Mr. and Mrs. David Grant, old-time Edmonton residents who now reside in Glendale, California, and who, each brought a picture of a table which is residing in the city.

They arrived Thursday and will leave Saturday night for the Pacific coast. While in the city they are the guests of their daughter Miss Cora Grant, McLean block.

This year Mr. Grant has brought with him a picture of a table which he constructed with 4,406 pieces of wood from 153 varieties of trees. It is a remarkable bit of handiwork, a Los Angeles Times story says, and took several months of painstaking work to construct.

The top measures 26 by 42 inches and the woods were collected from the United States, Canada, South America, and the Philippine Islands. They were matched skillfully and highly polished.

Mr. Grant is 73 years of age and lived in Edmonton for 13 years prior to 1923 when he retired and went to Glendale, California, to live. He visits Alberta again every summer. Furniture-making is his hobby.

Mr. Grant is the father of Mrs. J. W. Somers and he visited here last week.

ATHLETIC PARK IS GREATLY IMPROVED BY CITY COUNCIL

The Public Works Committee of the city is to be congratulated upon the good work they have done in the Athletic Park. An unsightly fence has been removed, the underbrush has been taken away, and Court House Avenue has been boulevardized, which adds greatly to the appearance of the eastern portion of the city. We are informed that sidewalks will be laid next year, and that trees will also be planted on the boulevard. This is a good example which many citizens may follow next year, and if this is done, Wetaskiwin will eventually be one of the most attractive and beautiful cities in the west.

IMPOSING TAX TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYED

Melbourne—Relief funds for the unemployed, in the State of Victoria, Australia are being sought through the levying of a stamp tax on wages and an additional tax on incomes.

The stamp tax on wages is to be about 2 cents per English pound sterling; that is to say, on a wage of one pound per week, the tax will be 2 cents and on up the scale. The special unemployment tax on incomes ranges from about $8.45 on yearly income of $1,750 to about $20 on incomes up to $25,000. These special taxes are to be in force a year and it is expected that approximately $5,000,000 will be raised.

Road Work To Be Main Relief Job in Alberta

RAILWAYS PLAN WORK FOR 10,500 FOR WHOLE YEAR

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Official announcement was made by Senator G. E. Robertson, minister of labor, this afternoon that the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways would proceed immediately with a $21,000,000 programme of construction and improvement work. Employment for 10,500 men would thereby be provided for a year and 2,000 teams of horses could be given work for a considerable part of the time, especially for grading purposes. The employment of teams will help the farmers in many districts.

Very substantial orders for new 100-pound steel rails to be purchased in Canada will be given by the railways, Senator Robertson further announced, which would mean increased use of thousands of tons of Canadian coal used in the manufacture of the rails.

This construction program is being carried out in advance of the time anticipated in order to afford work, and the government, Senator Robertson stated, was therefore setting aside the sum of $150,000 by way of meeting interest for the next 15 months. The works are to be completed within a year.

HOSPITAL LADIES' AID ARRANGE FOR BAZAAR

The Hospital Ladies' Aid met in the Nurses' sitting room, on October 6th, when final arrangements were made for the bazaar to be held on Saturday, Nov. 1st, in the Elks' hall. This is the one yearly effort of the Aid to raise funds, and it is to be hoped everyone will assist by generous donations and patronizing it on Nov. 1st. A canvass has been made of the city and country for plain and fancy sewing, and the committee in charge would appreciate it, if by any chance anyone has been missed, if they will consider this as a request for a donation and leave same at Chalmers' Hardware by October 20th. Housewife's for Bazaar will be in full swing in the afternoon and evening, with an attractive array of prices, and the Fish Pond will be there for all who like to take a chance. A hot chicken dinner will be served and there will be a jivey dance with good music. Entertainment and pleasure for everyone. So keep the date, Nov. 1st, in mind.

BRUDERHEIM STORE IS BROKEN INTO; SAFE ROBBED

Edmonton, Oct. 4.—Safe crackers carried out their second "job" in Central Alberta within 24 hours, plained at public meetings to be held when a heavy safe in the general store of S. Fogelson, Limited, at Bruderheim, was blown open some time Thursday night and loot of over $300 obtained.

Wetaskiwin Ladies Elected Officers Athletic Federation

The annual meeting of the Alberta branch of the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada was held at the Y.W.C.A. at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, when representatives from all over the province gathered to discuss the business of the year.

An election of officers took place, at which the following were elected: President, Mrs. L. Coleman, Edmonton; first vice-president, Mrs. M. Baker, Wetaskiwin; second vice-president, Mrs. L. M. Clarin, Calgary; secretary, Mrs. R. J. Foster, Edmonton; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Lyle, Wetaskiwin; advisory board, Sergeant John Leslie, E. Gardiner, C. H. Chesseman; hon. president, Judge Jackson, Lethbridge; hon. first vice-president, Mrs. B. W. Bellamy, Wetaskiwin; hon. second vice-president, Mrs. W. H. Horner, Calgary; delegates to the Dominion Convention of W.A.A.F., Mrs. L. Coleman, Mrs. B. W. Bellamy, Mrs. L. M. Clarin.

A report, together with credentials was requested of the secretary by members, and these were presented. Special mention was made of the outstanding success of the opening meeting, held in Wetaskiwin in August, 1929, and the reports from the officers received. The president, in her report, stated that the organization, being a new one, had experienced many difficulties during its inaugural year, but the outlook for the future was very bright. Her message to its members was that they do everything in their power to further the cause of the organization, and make it one of the outstanding clubs of the west. In behalf of the club members she tendered a sincere vote of thanks to the Y.W.C.A. officials for their kind invitation to hold this meeting at the Y.W. home; and to the secretary, Mrs. Foster, of Edmonton, for the Ottawa, Oct. 3.—Hon. O. L. McPherson, following a conference when he, Hon. George Hoadley, and the mayors of Calgary and Edmonton had had with the minister of labor today, stated that a definite program of works proposed by the provincial government had not yet been worked out and could not be, pending certain negotiations with the municipalities which are not represented here.

"Generally speaking, however," the provincial minister of public works said, "the program of the provincial government will be confined to road work in all parts of the province. It will consist of clearing work, which can be carried on immediately, grading in the fall and graveling in the winter. Some dirt roads will be built in the new territory north and the west. The problem is the allocation of the cost."

Mr. McPherson said that the works to be carried on will include those on highways, which are a potential link of the trans-Canada. There are two possible inlets into the province from the east and three possible outlets to the west. Naturally, the sentiment was divided as to the best choice, but the eventual selection would have to be worked out in conjunction with the routes favored by Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

All told, about $3,000,000 is expected to be expended on the provincial work programme, counting the Dominion, provincial and municipal contributions. This, of course, is outside of railway work, or grade separation or direct relief.

Mr. McPherson disputed the claim advanced that the situation in Manitoba is more acute than anywhere else. He conceded that in Winnipeg it is worse than in the Alberta cities, but in rural Alberta he believed the farmers are much worse off than in Manitoba. Some, he said, are practically destitute.

The minister of labor has given the assurance that the direct grant to Alberta from the Dominion will be as much as to Manitoba, which was $900,000. Mr. McPherson considered that the province is being well treated in the Dominion government's plans.

RUSSIAN WHEAT IS BARRED BY FRANCE

Paris, Oct. 3.—The French government took energetic action today to curb a flood of Russian wheat and other products into France. The cabinet decided to restrict the products with import licenses requiring a reciprocal exchange between France and Russia.

Application of the law will be held tonight by the ministries of agriculture and commerce, but it is understood that Russian imports will be limited to an equal amount of French products exported to Russia.

The report of the first vice-president covered briefly the work of the amateur athletics in the city, and set forth that the Y.W.C.A. was now affiliated with the W.A.A.F.

The secretary's report dealt with the general work of the past year, the officers elected at the last meeting, committees appointed, notices sent to various clubs in Canada, and accounts of the records of the past year.

The treasurer gave a financial statement, covering the receipts, disbursements and balance in the bank of the club. A committee of two members, Mrs. L. Coleman, and Mrs. L. M. Clarin, was appointed to audit the books and bring them up to date.

Dr. Braden Powell, president of the provincial basketball association was present, and a vote of thanks was tendered to him for the assistance he gave the members during the afternoon. In behalf of the organization, an invitation was extended to the basketball association to affiliate with the W.A.A.F., and every possible help promised by the women's organization to co-operate with the basketball club.

The Dominion convention of the W.A.A.F. is to be held in Edmonton, early in November. At this meeting, an invitation is to be extended by the W.A.A.F. to hold the Dominion meet for 1931 in Alberta. This will draw into the province the best athletes of Canada to the west, and will bring Alberta very much to the fore.

A charmingly arranged banquet was given by the Y.W.C.A. to the visiting representatives, at 6:30, providing a delightful break in the routine work of the meeting.—Calgary Herald.

FEATHERED FRIENDS ARE PREPARING FOR JOURNEY

(By F. L. Farley)
Our feathered friends are on the move. During the past month, Camrose has been visited by many varieties of birds, on route on their journey to the south.

The Martins were the first of the local birds to take their departure and were noted for the last time in town on August 30. In 1929 they stayed a few days longer, Mr. J. W. Russell having observed them on September 5th. The Martins are by this date well on their way to winter quarters in South America. The first of these friendly birds arrived in Camrose on April 25th and were noted by Vernon Craig. They, therefore, sojourned with us for one hundred and twenty-seven days and in that short period endeared themselves through their sociable qualities to all bird-lovers. They carried out their many activities in a remarkable manner. Immediately on arrival, they mated, selected nesting sites, built nests and in due course hatched their young. Their last month in Camrose was probably their busiest period, spent in feeding the birdlings to fly and hunt food. Martins are strongly entrenched here and it is estimated that twenty-five pairs nested about town last season, when their increase must have numbered close to one hundred. In 1913, only one pair nested in town and they chose a hole in the water-stadpole. The following year a pair nested in a bird box erected by Stewart Smith and it is presumed they were latched by the original pair. Everyone loves the companionable martin and a sufficient number now comes to Camrose each summer to successfully compete with the house sparrows in securing nesting boxes.

The Myrtle warbler is now passing through town in great numbers on its way south. This fine, big warbler is peculiar in that it is the hardest of the family in North America, as well as the most plentiful in Alberta. Greater numbers of "Myrtles" migrate through the province than all other warblers combined. They are harder than some of our native sparrows, particularly the Leconte and the Nelson's sparrows. During the past few weeks the "Myrtles" have been feasting on aphids which infested the majority of the Balm of Gilead trees on the boulevards and lawns. It is strange that other birds which spent the summer here did not locate this source of food, but they overlooked it. In August when the Tennessee warblers began to come from the north they were noticed picking the small insects from the leaves. The House wren is the only summer bird that really relies on the aphids but the wren is not plentiful enough anywhere to make serious inroads on this insect.

Meadowlarks are still with us and have congregated on the outskirts of the town where they may be heard lustily singing their brief fall song. These birds are unusual in that they gather on vacant lands adjoining towns and sing while waiting to begin their southward journey. One was known to have remained in Camrose near the C.P.R. elevators during one winter but in late February a cat caught it.

A small flock of white-winged crossbills were watched with considerable interest in the south part of the town as they fed on dandelion seed on the lawns and boulevards. They had just come down from the great spruce forests in the north and could today be in such a glut that bankrupt prices would prevail.

If the bulk of this year's crop was in the hands of individual farmers instead of a body so well-managed and so conservatively controlled as the Pool, Canada would be facing a disaster unprecedented in her history.

Hare-brained schemes are suggested and absurd panaceas are put forward but fortunately for the farmer and the Dominion they are rejected. So Western Canada dreads the coming winter but refuses to blind herself to the silver lining behind the clouds and faces the future with characteristically dauntless optimism.

The road may be hard, the path out of the woods may still be lost in the trees, but Canada believes that some day it will be found. Meanwhile she plays the most difficult role of waiting in forced idleness for the clouds to break.

SHINING EXAMPLE

(By Walt Masloh)
I don't believe in mixing drinks, but it is useless to uprise and call those people missing links, who like their gins and beers and ryes. I feel it useless to expound the effects of booze and wine, for countless men are going round with messages along that line. I hold that drinking is a crime, and I shall make my meaning clear by being sober all the time, and blowing foam from no one's beer. Then thoughtful people will observe that to the sober man there is no strain in drinking water there. This will impress them more, methinks, than if I talked till I ran down about the ill effects of drinks upon our morals and renown. For well know the country swarms with men who whoop for any creed, whose words will back up all reforms, when bright examples are the need. Out west, a few brief days ago, a town official wagged his jaws, and warned us, through the radio, to honor all the traffic laws. His talk was sensible and sane, he scored where many a speaker fails; he showed that reckless speed is vain, and fills the morgues and eke the jails. Next day the man who talked so well was plinched for hitting sixty miles and he was sitting in a cell, with shagging tears instead of smiles. So his wise words became a jest, and we could see the speed fiends pass, their feet once more with vigor pressed upon the trap that feeds the gas. I do not lecture fellow guys upon the laws they should obey; I think it is more truly wise to keep from being plinched today.

Town Planning in Alberta

(By Horace L. Seymour, Provincial Director of Town Planning)
Being a series of short articles explanatory of the provisions of the Alberta Town Planning Act and Regulations thereunder.

Article 6.—Maintaining the Scenic Advantages of Alberta Highways, Gasoline Filling Stations, Refreshment Booths.

More unappealing to the eye than advertising signs may be refreshment booths sometimes erected, and gasoline stations are not always built to accommodate their customers without interference with highway traffic. These matters are taken care of in recently promulgated regulations and in the 2,500 miles of main highways of the province (outside of cities or towns or villages) the locations and design of filling stations garages or refreshment booths must be approved. Nor can any new private structure be nearer the centre of these main highways than 60 feet. Provisions supplementary to sanitary regulations already in force, are also included in regard to tourist camps. The general object of the regulations in regard to such public conveniences are not to prohibit, but to assist in co-operation with the owners in making their buildings and equipment more attractive to the public and hence more remunerative to the owner himself.

The regulations which should maintain traffic safety, convenience and amenity read in part:

On any declared (main) highway the design, location and construction of any building or part thereof, which is or is intended to be used as a gasoline filling station, garage, automobile service station, or for the purpose of supplying travellers with refreshment shall be subject to the approval of the Town and Rural Planning and Advisory Board. All applications for approval shall be submitted to the Director of Town Planning, Parliament Buildings Edmonton.

Plans, designs and specifications are to be furnished with the application forms, and a yearly license fee is also required.

THE OUTLOOK IN THE WEST

(Family Herald and Weekly Star)
Western Canada is facing a grave crisis. Not since the depression of 1929 has the outlook appeared so threatening.

Western Canada, the land of optimism, the home of men and women of high courage and dauntless spirit, is overwhelmed by an aura of pessimism that touches every acre of its broad prairie lands.

It is admitted that unemployment has cast a shadow of something akin to fear throughout the Dominion.

A lower purchasing power, a lack of remunerative work and unprofitable prices for manufactured goods and field produce, coming on the eve of a Canadian winter are bound to create the gravest anxiety.

Yet while these depressing factors are operating everywhere, it is in Western Canada that the pinch is beginning to be felt most acutely.

The East has a wide diversity of products and can therefore make a more or less elastic adjustment of its unemployment quota.

While hard times are generally anticipated, the East has many eggs in its basket. It has slackness in

INDIGESTION Banished by Kruschen

"I suffered for some years from a bad stomach. I used to feel very miserable after meals. The doctor advised me to take Epsom Salts, but I did me no good. I decided to try Kruschen and am now taking it, and have done for the past 12 months, and I am very glad to tell you that my stomach is now in perfect order. I feel as young in spirit as I was 20 years ago. Thanks to Kruschen (W. I.) You know how badly an engine runs when it gets clogged up. It's the same with your body when your gastric—or digestive—juices fail to flow. What you need is a tonic—Nature's own tonic—Nature's six mineral salts.

You get all these six salts in Kruschen. The action of these salts is to promote the flow of the saliva and so awaken the appetite. The next action occurs in the stomach, where the digestive juices are encouraged to pour out and act upon the food. Again, in the intestinal tract, certain of these salts promote a further flow of these vital juices which deal with partly digested food and prepare it finally for absorption into the system.

one or more trades there are signs of hopeful promise in others. At the time of the keenest depression in the building trade there may be a healthy moderate stimulus in the iron and steel industry or in the manufacture of textiles or in some other branch of industry.

This is far less true in the West where in spite of an annual increase in the number and man-power of its manufactures, the wheat crop still dominates the situation.

Given an abundant crop and a briskness among foreign purchasers with a fair rate for cereals, the West immediately enjoys and reflects an abundant prosperity.

This year two of the factors that are necessary to ensure this prosperity are missing.

Due to world wide economic depression, and a lowered purchasing power in European markets the demand for Canadian wheat is unprecedentedly low.

Because of this restricted demand the price of wheat in a glutted market is today lower than it has been for more than a quarter of a century. The price at which wheat is quoted on the grain exchanges of the world today is so low that it is many cents per bushel below the cost of production.

Western Canada is growing dependent as the price sinks still further for her dependency is that there is nothing that her grain growers or her statesmen can suggest to improve things.

Forced inaction at such a time is tantamount to a practical remedy.

The Prime Minister has expressed his eagerness to help improve the situation but is forced to admit that he knows of no constructive action he can take.

The remedy can only come when Europe's purchasing power is stimulated and raised.

Western Canada is fortunate in one respect—the great co-operative movement known as "The Pool" is controlled by men who are displaying a brave calmness and courage through a time that is testing their determination and their sagacity to the utmost.

If the men who control the Pool had lost their heads or lowered their courage the wheat crop of Canada because they had never before seen migration are now moving about quite a bit and may be seen in town investigating their old haunts where they were fed last winter. Both these birds can easily be attracted to one's door yard if pieces of suet are placed where they can find them. A piece nailed to a tree is secure from dogs and acts as well as a warning from the weather—Camrose Canadian.

Four Doses Relieved Bad Attack of Cholera

Mr. W. J. Cooper, Maughan, Alta., writes:—"A year ago last spring I arrived in Canada with my family, and one of my boys, aged six, was suffering very much with cholera. When we arrived I had a few hours to wait, and told one of the attendants at the station about it. He asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I had never heard of it in England, so he told me I could get it in Winnipeg. I was pleased to say I had only to give the child four doses and he got well and was quite cheerful by the next morning."

SIXTH INSTALLMENT

(What has gone before)
Giles Chittenden swears to avenge the death of his young half-brother Rodney, driven to suicide by the notorious Julie Farrow who had spurned his love. He will make Julie love him, then throw her aside as she threw Rodney. He meets her in Switzerland goes with her to the hotel on the St. Bernard Pass, and succeeds in winning her love. To his amazement, he discovers that he has fallen overwhelmingly in love with her himself! And he is married, to an American girl with whom he has nothing in common.

Then he discovers that this girl is not the same Julie Farrow who ruined Rodney, but her cousin of the same name. She scorns him when he confesses his love and his inability to marry her. They meet later in London, where she is going the pace that kills. Another man, Lawrence Schofield, wants to marry her, in spite of her wild life.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
In the morning he rang her up. Bim Lennox answered.
"Julie? Oh, I'm sorry—she's not up yet. Who is it?"

"Lawrence Schofield. She told me I might ring."

"Oh—well—if you will wait a moment. May I give her a message?"

"I want her to lunch with me if she will."

"I will tell her."

It seemed like an eternity till Bim returned.

"Julie will be delighted. Will you call for her at half-past one?"

"I shall be delighted also."

So that was that.

Schofield felt a boy as he turned away from the telephone. Nearly fifty! Nonsense, he was a young man, and in love for the first time.

He might have been less elated had he heard Julie's comment when his message was conveyed to her.

"Schofield! who on earth—no! I know the man."

Julie was half asleep still; her head was splitting and there was a queer dread in her heart.

"He was here last night. He brought you home," Bim said patiently.

"He was waiting on the phone."

"Oh—well, say what you like—anything."

Bim went away without answering, and when she returned Julie was still sitting up in bed, her hands clasped round her knees, a little frown of pain between her eyes.

"What did you say?"

"I said you would be delighted to lunch with him, and he is calling for you at half-past one."

Julie scowled.

"I told you to send him away."
"You didn't. You told me to say what I liked, so I said you would be delighted. I like that man."

"Go with him yourself then."

"I would have done if he had asked me."

Julie lay back on her pillows.

"Where's the taxi?"

"Just coming. Is your head very bad?"

"The very devil," Julie followed.

which it was impossible not to like. He was so anxious to please, so attentive and kind.

"Are you a married man?" Julie asked impulsively, and he flushed and shook his head.

"No—my wife died—long ago."

She drew a long, slim finger across the table, conscious of Schofield's eyes upon them.

"You—you are not married?" he asked.

"No."

"Why do you say that?"

She flushed and looked away.

"Why? Oh, I don't know. I prefer independence I suppose."

"But if you met some man who—"

"who thought the world of you—some man who would be kind and—"

"devoted."

"Are there any such men?" she asked cynically.

"There is one here," Schofield said.

She turned her head slowly and looked at him in blank amazement.

"I beg your pardon," she said at last.

Schofield's honest eyes met hers unflatteringly.

"I said there was one here," he repeated.

"I suppose you are surprised."

"I have not forgotten that we met last night for the first time, but directly I saw you everything was changed for me. I have never—never felt for any woman what I felt for you last night."

"I dare say you think I'm presuming on my part to have said as much as I have done, but some day if there is no other man you care for—"

Julie gasped.

"You're not—you're not asking me to marry you?"

"Some day I want to ask you if you will."

Julie felt as if she were dreaming.

She broke out desperately:

"But you know nothing about me—nothing!"

"I know you are the woman with whom I could be perfectly happy."

She laughed derisively.

"That is a bold statement. If I were to tell you—"

He touched her hand with his.

"Nothing would make any difference."

She felt her eyes wet with sudden tears.

"Are you—just—joking?" she asked.

"No."

She looked at him for a long moment in silence; she felt as if she saw him now for the first time. He was not young, as he had told her, and he was not good-looking, but there was something in his face—a steadfastness and sincerity which was like balm poured into her aching heart.

"I don't want you to say anything now," he was telling her. "If you will just let me see you—often! and be my friend."

"I don't know why you are so kind to me."

"I am being kind to myself."

She looked away, winking the tears from her lashes.

"He was so simple and sincere. He was like a breath from her old peaceful life. Lately she had seen so little of simple honesty and sincerity. Sometimes she thought she had left all those things behind her on the snow-capped mountain tops."

"Where have you been hiding all these years?" she asked impulsively.

He told her quite frankly.

"I've lived in a country town—I've just been a nobody, a junior partner in a highly respectable firm of solicitors. My wife died—she was never very strong and then a distant relation died too and left me some money—quite a lot of money."

"Lucky you!" Julie said.

"Yes," he answered, "I think I was very lucky," and his eyes were on her face. "I hope my luck will continue to hold."

"I think you deserve that it should," Julie said. "You are the kind of man who would spoil a woman terribly," Julie said.

"It would give me great happiness if I had the right to spoil you."

She laughed rather sadly.

"It's quite early days. Soon—perhaps quite soon—you will know me better, and then you will wonder why you ever thought me nice at all. I've got all sorts of vices."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

"I don't believe you."

They spoke of the others who had been at the Faun.

"I tell you who I did like," Schofield said. "That tall fellow—what was his name—Chittenden?"

Julie caught her breath.

"Oh, yes—I forgot that you met him."

"I liked him," Schofield said again meditatively. "I believe I've met him before somewhere, but I can't quite remember. If I were a woman, he is the kind of a man who would attract me."

"He detests all women."

"Nonsense! a man like that—"

Julie broke in excitedly:

"I tell you he does—ask any one who knows him! he's a woman-hater."

"Then there must be a good reason for it."

"Conceit, I should think!" Julie said flippantly. "He imagines that all women are running after him."

Schofield looked surprised at her vehemence.

"It sounds rather as if you dislike him."

Julie shrugged her shoulders. There was a little hard look in her pretty eyes.

"I don't dislike him," she said, "I'm just quite indifferent."

Since his introduction to Doris at the Faun, Giles saw a great deal more of her than he wished to see. At first he had accepted her invitations in the hope that perhaps Julie might also be included, but he had always been disappointed.

Once when he had mentioned her name to Doris she had frowned.

"Oh, Jules! I think I have shown her at last that her room is preferable to her company. She's really too impossible. You know who she is running about with now?"

"No."

"Lawrence Schofield."

"You do. You were introduced at the Faun one night. He's a harmless sort of man with heaps of money, but his wife has only been dead about a month, and it's a bit soon, don't you think?"

"Soon for what?"

"To get married again."

There was a little silence, then Chittenden asked quietly:

"Is he to marry Miss Farrow?"

"So people say. He's years too old for her, of course, but he seems absolutely devoted and she says it's only his money she wants, and as it's what we all want, I suppose you can't blame her."

"I suppose not! though I understand Miss Farrow to say that she never intended to marry."

Doris laughed.

It was the next day his mother telephoned him. He could not go with her.

Giles wondered as he hung up the receiver, what his mother would have said had he told her that his engagement was to meet the other Julie Farrow whom his brother had loved.

The invitation had come about in quite a casual way.

Only the night before Lombard had called in at the hotel where he was staying.

"Will you come along and have some dinner with me this evening? Quite a small party," he had said.

"Ladies."

"Two—one of them Julie Farrow—the 'it' Julie, I think," he added, rather maliciously.

Giles frowned.

"Did you tell her I was coming?"

"I said I should ask you if I could and you."

"And she made no objection?"

"No. I think she was entertained at the thought of meeting you."

There was a little silence which Chittenden broke.

AFTER EVERY MEAL

"There's one point I can't get quite clear," he said. "This Julie—the famous one—isn't she a married woman?"

"She was. There was a divorce."

"I see, and she still calls herself Farrow?"

"It was her maiden name. She went back to it when the case was over."

Giles laughed shortly.

"It seems to be the fashion," he said, and he remembered that Sadie had done the same thing after he and she had agreed to each go their separate ways.

"Well, I'll be there at eight," he said.

"And—Chittenden—"

"Yes."

"What about—do you ever run across the other Julie?"

"I have met her once or twice."

Lombard looked relieved.

"I'm glad to hear that. I thought—"

—well—you seemed so upset when we were in Lausanne—"

"What the devil are you driving at?"

"Oh, nothing nothing—only you cut up rough with me if you remember. You cut up rough over that mistake I made. And it was quite pardonable on my part. You'll see for yourself to-night. They're very much alike—"

—especially if you don't know them very well."

It was quite true. Giles found himself unable to keep his eyes off the "other Julie" when they met at dinner that night.

Tells Dyspeptics What to Eat

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic acid stomachs are exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and unpalatable diet—avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antidote than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peptic pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. FALUN

The October meeting of the Falun W.L. was held at the home of Mrs. T. S. Steedman on Saturday, October 4, and was well attended by 14 members and several visitors. The roll call was answered by "Thrashing Hints." Mrs. T. S. Steedman, Mrs. Hagquist and Mrs. Isaacson were hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Cronin on Nov. 1st.

BITTERN LAKE

Gus Holmstrom and Oscar Lundquist, C.R.R. employees of Edmonton, tre at the Lake duck hunting. Mr. and Mrs. S. Morita are in Edmonton for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. J. Pasamko are back on their farm during harvest and thrashing. Mrs. N. Holmstrom is under the doctor's care, having fractured her arm. We are glad she is feeling better, but no doubt it will be a long time before her arm will be strong again.

Donald Gouchee spent a few days at his home here before returning to Bawit.

F. Puskar is working on the new highway, Camrose to Dayland. Wickland Bros. are busy thrashing south of the river, and A. L. Peterson is thrashing up in the Harvest Home district.

The weather is balky, and makes thrashing go very slow.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing.

NEW NORWAY WEST

The Zion Ladies' Aid will hold their annual Thanksgiving supper on October 24th.

Katherine Jans crushed her wrist very badly one day last week, while attempting to crank the pump engine. She was taken to Wetaskiwin where one of the local doctors put it in a cast. On account of it being her right arm, she will be unable to attend school for some time.

Miss Ellen Hill is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis at the Camrose hospital.

Mrs. Henry Bowes is taking treatment in one of the Sanatoriums in Edmonton. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jacobson drove down from Edmonton on Saturday. Mr. Jacobson returned on Monday, while Mrs. Jacobson is staying the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Beller.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wright of Perinotsh, are spending this week at the Basil Wright home.

Little Donald Johns has been quite ill with the flu. His mother is staying in Wetaskiwin with him, where he is under the doctor's care.

Little Daisy Holt hurt his shoulder quite seriously one day last week, when he fell against a rock.

Mr. Jack Meyers had quite an accident with his car last week, when he struck some fresh grading and turned over once and half the second time. Lucky for Jack he escaped with only slight bruises, but his car surely got the worst of it. Jack wishes to inform his friends he was just leaving home. Not coming home as such is the case some time, and he was wide awake, too.

WINFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Grauls have decided to name their up-to-date hostelry "The Peerless Hotel." Winfield is proud to possess such a fine stopping place, which would be a credit to a larger town.

Mr. Hellerud of Rimby, was a visitor here last week on business.

We are pleased to note that the Husted children, Albin, Myrtle and Raymond, have returned to school. With all the new settlers coming in, our school is now filled almost to capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Alwood were visitors in town last Friday.

The funeral of the late Vernon Halligan took place last Tuesday in Wetaskiwin. Many of the relatives from Winfield and vicinity attended.

On Wednesday, October 1st, the post office changed hands. Mr. S. H. Carter is our new postmaster. Mrs. Sabin, the retiring postmistress, deserves a vote of thanks from this community for her long and unselfish service.

Mrs. Endyoh and baby son have returned safely.

Messrs. Anders Lerand and John Arvidsson are erecting a new chicken house for Mr. Crowe.

Mr. Lewis of Calgary, was a business visitor in town last week.

It is reported that the wheat sown on Mr. John Engblom's farm, west of town, yielded forty-seven bushels per acre. Who says this is not a suitable place to farm?

A party of young people were entertained at the home of Mrs. C. A. Stady last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke and daughters Margaret and Winifred, motored to Wetaskiwin on Saturday, attended the theatre there, and returned home by way of Camrose on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bracken and daughters Gladys and Margaret, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Taylor last Saturday evening.

Mr. Walter Carroll, of Carroll Bros. Lumber Co., is at present in Winfield. It is reported that he is arranging for the felling of logs, for sawing later.

Mr. E. M. Ayre reports two visitors over the weekend, which were quite so welcome as those listed above. Two skunks invaded his chicken house, and were duly trapped there.

ELEVENTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

(Issued by the Dept. of Agriculture, Government of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, October 4th, 1930.)

Thrashing has been seriously delayed by unfavorable weather during the past fortnight. Snow and rain, followed by dull foggy days, made thrashing impossible and resulted in a slight lowering of grade in some districts.

At present a series of warm bright days has put all grains in excellent thrashing condition, and this work is proceeding rapidly.

In south eastern Alberta thrashing is almost completed. In the south west and central parts of the Province, from 50 to 75% of wheat is threshed, while in the northern area, and Peace River district, wheat thrashing is from 35 to 50% completed. Thrashing percentages for oats and barley are about 10% lower than those for wheat, throughout the Province.

Yields have been equal to expectations and provide assurance that the estimate of 120,000,000 bushels of wheat issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, will be realized. The yield of coarse grains in the east central part of the Province is very low. In the south west, fair, and in the northern and Peace River district, very heavy. Many yields of 100 bushels per acre of oats are recorded. Potatoes and root crops will give excellent returns and the supply will be at least equal to domestic requirements with possibility of some surplus. Sugar beet harvesting operations were delayed by unfavorable weather, but are now progressing favorably with yield and quality above average. There is also 50% increase in acreage over the previous year.

Pasture is plentiful over the greater part of the Province and livestock are in excellent condition. There are indications that there will be a considerable movement of feeder cattle to those districts where feed is plentiful.

Very little fall plowing has been accomplished to date. In the areas where thrashing is most nearly completed, there is insufficient moisture for plowing, and where moisture is sufficient, thrashing is demanding the attention of farmers. With continuance of present favorable weather, plowing will proceed rapidly in the near future.

MRS. McKINNEY HEADS ALBERTA W.C.T.U. FOR TWENTY-THIRD YEAR

Red Deer, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Louise C. McKinney of Claresholm, entered upon her twenty-third year as president of the Alberta Women's Christian Temperance Union when she was re-elected to that position at the morning session of the provincial convention here today. Since 1908 Mrs. McKinney has held the post of provincial president in Alberta.

Mrs. C. G. Craig, of Olds, and Mrs. Nellie McClung, of Calgary, were re-elected honorary presidents of the provincial organization and Mrs. W. White, of Nanton, vice-president; Mrs. J. F. Knight of Macleod, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. L. McPherson, of Halden, recording secretary; Mrs. L. T. Poole, of Wetaskiwin, treasurer, and Mrs. F. G. Grevelt, of Calgary, "Y" secretary, were all re-elected to their respective offices at Thursday morning's convention session.

H. H. Hull, secretary of the Alberta Prohibition Association, addressed the convention, which also received departmental reports and committee summaries. Sixty-two registered delegates were reported on Thursday.

CARE OF MACHINERY

Thousands of dollars are wasted annually through leaving farm machinery and equipment out in the open and breakdowns at critical periods always proves expensive. It costs very little, around $150, to provide an adequate, if rough, shelter for binders, seed drills, threshers, tractors, combines, mowers, most of which are idle about 46 weeks in the year. All that is necessary is a shed that will keep rain, snow and sun from the equipment. The saving in depreciation alone will more than offset the cost in the first year. The farmer who has his machinery housed has a much better chance to repair it during the winter time and with only 175 working days between the spring thaw and freeze up keeping farm machinery at maximum efficiency is really important.—Dominion Department of Agriculture.

"Metis" Dancers for Quebec

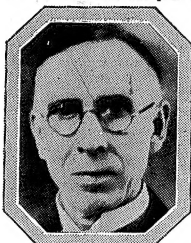

From far-off Edmonton, outpost of Canada's wide West, to old Quebec, cradle of her civilization and gateway from Europe under both French and English regimes, a group of men and maidens of mixed French-Indian and Scotch-Indian blood will bring their tribute to the shrine of Terpsichore, when the Dance and Folk Song Festival opens at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Chateau Frontenac hotel, on October 16th, 1930.

There are twelve in the party and all proudly claim that their ancestry gives them the prime right to the title of "Canadian." The above drawing by Kathleen Shackleton, noted portraitist, made from life, shows the beauty resultant from the mingling of the European and Indian stocks. As performers, the Westerners have a varied programme to offer, including toe-dancing in moccasins.

SPARTON'S ANNOUNCEMENT IMPROVED RADIOS

Sparton's announcement that a new and very much improved battery radio has been added to their new line of 30th Anniversary Jubilee Models is viewed as significant by radio authorities.

Sparton officials state that experimental work has been under way for months in their laboratories in an effort to reduce current drain and at the same time retain the volume and range characteristic of AC sets. The result of their efforts is given to the public in the rather startling statement that the total current consumption of the new set is only equal to that required by the dial light with which it is equipped.

Utilizing six ordinary dry cells for A current, the set differs from most in that these are connected in three series of two, with a voltage of approximately three volts, instead of in a single series of the entire six. A panel voltmeter indicates when the necessary volts are on the tubes. This may be varied by a rheostat. A storage battery may be used, but if so only a single cell is utilized.

While reduction of current consumption was a prime aim in its development, the maintenance of the Sparton tone was the guiding element during all experimental work.

The new model is housed in one of the most popular of Sparton cabinets, the only change being an inconspicuous rearrangement of the controls. Provision is made in the cabinet for the concealment of all batteries and wiring, giving the same trim appearance of other type sets. A quotation from literature descriptive of the new model clearly indicates what Sparton has tried to accomplish—"We present this model not as an improved battery set, but as an entirely new and different radio development, bringing the best in reception to those who are remote from commercial current."

One of our patrons planted a package of beet seeds in the spring. He paid no attention to their growth, thinking that the wind had blown them away and that nothing would be left. On examination, he found that he had a splendid crop of sugar beet, and has been exhibiting them to his friends. If sugar beet can be grown

Old Dug-Out Rests From World Cruise

The old "Tillamook", battered and storm-torn, but still gallant under its new coat of paint, was brought from a marine graveyard on the banks of the Thames, London, recently, and placed on public inspection in front of the famous Crystal Gardens, Victoria, B.C., where it is becoming one of the sights of the British Columbia capital. The old dug-out canoe was built by Indians near Victoria more than 125 years ago and a century later carried Captain J. C. Voss and N. K. Luxton, Banff newspaperman, on a round-the-world trip in 1907 of 40,000 miles, weathering typhoons in the Pacific and hurricanes in the Atlantic. The canoe was brought to Victoria through the efforts of George I. Warren, commissioner, and other officials of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau. Picture shows close-up of the old dug-out.

WETASKIWIN GOLFERS CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

Recently a competition took place among the players of the Wetaskiwin Golf Club, to decide the championships for the season. Much interest was taken in the event, and many close competitions took place.

In the championship flight, Kirstein beat Chalmers, Prest beat Orr, Taylor beat Hanson, and Grabham beat Burkholder. In the semi-finals, Prest beat Kirstein, and Taylor beat Grabham, and in the finals, Prest beat Taylor, in a close contest.

In the first flight, E. E. Abousafy beat Ostry, Findlater beat Knox, Olstad beat Wynne, Merner beat J. Abousafy. The competition has not been finished.

In the Junior Championship, R. Grabham beat R. Kirstein, and Kells McMurdo beat K. Kirstein. In the playoff, Kells McMurdo won.

In the Ladies' competition Mrs. McMurdo won the championship.

W. C. T. U.

At the recent General Church Conference held in Hamilton, Ont., our Canadian press came in for strong denunciation by the American visitors present, for the way in which they have published wet propaganda regarding prohibition in the U.S.

Rev. Ford Smith, a man of whom it was said indicated considered judgment, but also voiced moral indignation at what he regarded as a persistent effort to serve private sordid and commercial ends by promoting national misunderstanding. The denunciation was not, of course, wholesale.

Mr. Smith did not suggest that the enforcement of the Act was quite satisfactory, but plainly showed that no statutory effort to control the actions of those engaged in the liquor traffic was accorded respect or more than limited obedience by those whom it would control.

Two years ago our own commission reported that the major actors in our own liquor traffic were men of definitely anti-social aims and character, ready to deprive the public treasury for their own selfish gains.

The General Conference took a little time to speak of the life and work of the late Mrs. Gordon Wright, National President of the W.C.T.U.

PHILIPS MILK
For Troubles due to Acid
Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, Headache, Gases, Nausea

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in heartburn, sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless, and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts.

Be sure to get the genuine. "Milk of Magnesia" has been U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1876.

The Great Western Cattle Company, Edmonton, Alberta.

Dear Sirs:
Since buying the first pair of your G.W.C. Cattle two years ago, I figure I have saved nearly $25.00 in tools, money and time. I used to buy a new wrench or pair of pliers every few weeks only to lose them again out of my hand.

I would never be without G.W.C. Stop-Loss Pockets again. I think they are too good to lose. I double the price as they wear so much longer than other wrenches and are so much roomier. I will always recommend your G.W.C. Stop-Loss Pockets overalls.

Yours very truly,

VICTOR A. TATTON.

Stop-Loss Pockets are all that their name implies. They are made of tools, time, money and temper. G.W.C. are the only overalls produced in Canada equipped with Stop-Loss Pockets. Obtainable from good stores throughout the West.

FISH HATCHERIES BANFF, WATERTON, NOT TO PROVINCE

Edmonton Oct. 4.—Under special agreement with the Dominion Government made in respect to the transfer to the Province of its natural resources, Alberta will take over control of the fish hatcheries at Lac La Biche, while the Dominion will continue its control of the hatcheries at Banff and Waterton parks, according to an announcement made by Premier J. E. Brownlie prior to his departure on Friday for a several days' business trip to Winnipeg.

The agreement recently completed calls for payment on the part of the Province for any fry taken from the two hatcheries remaining with the Dominion.

Here and There

(G17).
One of the biggest game bags ever to be taken out of the Canadian Rockies has fallen to the gun of Angus Hodgson, of Montreal, who has been hunting in the Kootenay Valley. It includes two deer, two Rocky Mountain goats, a caribou, a moose, one elk, and one black bear. At the end of his trip he spent six weeks in a mountain cabin, and with one big horn ram he would have had the limit of every animal possible to get which the law allows him.

Comprising the largest one-day movement of supplies out of British Columbia this season, the Canadian Pacific Railway recently operated for special freight trains over mountains, making a shipment of 113 carloads of McIntosh Reds to the Prairie Provinces and as far east as Kenora.

Riding moose across New Brunswick is becoming a hobby with some sportsmen. Recently one was sent to rate as the coming new craze, says Major McGeehan, noted New York sports and magazine writer, who has been spending a full outfit in the Miramichi and Cain's River districts. Up to the present, the riding moose have been cow moose but Rev. Thomas Travis, of Montclair, N.J., appears to be the first who has ridden a bull moose, which was done in the Key Hole of Grand Lake, about 35 miles from Fredericton. Now other sportsmen are taking up the pastime and it begins to look as though sportsmen in New Brunswick will be the habit of crossing moose and rivers on mooseback.

Officials of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina July 25 to August 6, 1932, report that farmers in the United States and Canada are keenly interested. Entries of both oats and corn from these states are to be expected at the Exhibition. Over $200,000 is to be offered in cash prizes and in some classes as many as fifty prizes will be awarded. First prize for wheat will be $2,500 and first prize for corn, $1,500.

Flag poles are found at their best and highest in British Columbia. Recently one was sent via the Panama Canal all the way by water, to the Toronto National Exhibition. It was 177 feet high, 31 inches in diameter at the base and 9 1/2 inches at the top. This young giant was 236 years old. The daddy of them all is at the famous Kaw Gardens, London, England, and is 241 feet high.

This year's crop of grapes in the Niagara fruit peninsula between Hamilton and Niagara Falls, Ont., is expected to reach about 50,000,000 pounds, an increase of 15 per cent over the 1929 crop.

Motor tourist travel from the United States to New Brunswick has been 50 per cent greater this year than in 1929, according to statistics gathered the season up to August 31, compiled by the provincial government from official returns gathered at the 25 ports of entry along the international boundary. The number was 385,321. Normal increase each year has been 25 per cent and the great difference this year is attributed to wider advertising by the provincial government.

DISCUSS ROAD TO COLD LAKE

Camrose, Oct. 2.—Fourteen members of the Vegreville Board of Trade visited Camrose Tuesday evening when they were entertained at lunch at the Hotel Alton by the executive committee of the Camrose Board of Trade.

After the luncheon the visitors outlined a proposal to recommend to the Provincial Government the construction of a highway from Camrose to Cold Lake by way of Vegreville. As there is already a standard gravelled highway reaching Camrose from practically the international boundary via Calgary and Wetaskiwin the extension of the road to Cold Lake would open up a large area of summer resort territory and fishing grounds in northeastern Alberta.

The Vegreville Board of Trade is assuming the responsibility of interesting the municipalities concerned in the northern part of the territory while it is asking the Camrose Board of Trade to be responsible for the necessary work of publicity in the southern part of the area.

THE FIVE AGES OF MAN
"Daddy, I know how to do everything," said the little boy of five.
"What I don't know isn't worth knowing," said the young man of twenty.
"Well, anyway I do know my own mind from A to Z," said the man of thirty-five.
"There are very few matters, I am sorry to say, that I am really quite sure about," said the man of fifty.
"I have learned a bit but not much, since I was born; but knowledge is so vast that one cannot be wise in a short lifetime," said the man of sixty-five.

TRANSFER OF NATURAL RESOURCES TOOK PLACE ON OCTOBER 1ST

Triumphant after 25 years of battling for its full rights, Alberta today is mistress of all it surveys. On this historic October 1st, the natural resources passed from federal to provincial ownership and control. A wealth that can be measured in billions, a heritage that was life blood to the pioneers, now becomes the property of its rightful heirs, the people of Alberta.

No ceremony of any kind marked the formal transfer. "Business as usual," marked the proceedings at the various offices affected, the organization being in complete readiness for the change.

Today the old guard gives way to the new, which is eager and determined to carry Alberta to new heights of industrial and business dominance. With the formal handing over of keys to federal offices or records, Alberta takes on new duties and vastly enlarged responsibilities.

Today about 100,000,000 acres of land come under provincial control. In addition, there are several million acres of coal lands, 3,000,000 acres of tar sands, 500,000 acres of petroleum rights, and nearly 310,000,000 of a school lands fund to be transferred to the province.

Revenue of approximately $1,000,000 a year, which formerly went to the Dominion treasury from the natural resources of Alberta, will now be diverted to the provincial coffers.

Alberta will also continue to receive its cash subsidy of $562,000 a year from the Dominion government, to be increased as the population grows. When the population now over 1,000,000 reaches the 800,000 mark the subsidy will be increased to $750,000.

Seven in Ten Past 40 Need This Special Treatment

Writer Explains Wondrous Value of Doctor Southworth's "URATABS" And Invites All to Try Them Without Cost Unless Pleased

With middle age ailments attacking over two-thirds of those past 40, every one who notices such distressing symptoms as LAMENESS, PAINS IN BACK AND DOWN THROUGH GROINS, SCANTY BUT FREQUENT AND BURNING URINATION, "GIDDY" OR DIZZINESS, NERVOUS IRRITABILITY AND LACK OF FORCE—should at once try the amazing value of Dr. Southworth's "URATABS."

While new to many, the truly remarkable value of "URATABS" has been thoroughly proven by more than 40 years of successful use in the private practice of Dr. H. C. Southworth. Reports from Doctors and users alike offer convincing proofs: "I have never found anything to help my case until I tried URATABS." "URATABS" are the best thing for Bladder Weakness and Irritation I have ever used. "No more backaches no more pain, no more daily embarrassment or getting-up-Nights. I now sleep soundly and get up in the morning full of pep—thanks to URATABS."

This is amazing evidence! No matter how long you have been troubled or how stubborn your case may seem to be, a ten-day test of Southworth's URATABS offers comfort and relief—and you can make the test without risk of cost, for any good druggist will supply you on guarantee of money back if not satisfied. Try URATABS today.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

culture to the national life and in his proposals he has made an attempt to protect that industry to some degree from the ill effects of the tariff proposals. I think that the Prime Minister and the government deserve credit for having made an effort to attempt something new. They have proposed to stop an increase in price commensurate with the increase in tariff. I commend that policy because I have advocated it before. Therefore it must be a good one. the part of many farmers. Not only will they find themselves out of a job, but they will lose the little capital they have; because under such circumstances their land and their implements will have no value and their entire life so far will have been wasted. Therefore it seems to be rather serious, if it is true as I see it at the present moment that the government proposes to add other classes at the expense of agriculture, and in a way which will deprive agriculture of any market for its wheat.

The theory of the present opposition when they were in power was that they had to send goods abroad in order to bring goods in, and they favoured theoretically the free trade policy. Great Britain was our best market for wheat, and they professed to be able to give us a better market in that country. There were two things that the matter with the policy of the present opposition when they were in power. In the first place, they never tried to put it in force, and that is a very serious thing to be wrong with any policy. Secondly, if they had tried to put it into force, it is not certain we would have found markets in Great Britain for our wheat, because the British market for wheat is open to all countries.

We have now the opposite policy of getting markets by protection, and since this country has committed itself to a policy of higher tariffs, the farmer must obtain as much benefit from that policy as any other class in Canada or the policy must be abandoned. It is not clear from anything that has been said by the government or contained in the proposals themselves that the farmer will receive any benefit whatsoever, but he is likely to lose some of what little he has. Wheat cannot be protected. We might as well try to protect ice in Labrador in the winter time as to protect wheat in Canada. But wheat might be protected indirectly and I think the logical outcome of the present tariff policy of Canada must be considering it imperially, the Beaverbrook policy. I wonder whether the government will go so far as to try to make a bargain with Great Britain that if she will put a tariff on wheat from Great Britain from foreign countries and thus give Canada a market, we shall in turn open the doors of Canada for goods produced in Great Britain. There might be some hope for the farmers in such a policy. Such a policy—free-trade within the empire and tariffs for the outside—would give us more free trade than any Liberal government ever thought of and higher tariffs than any Conservative government ever planned to put into force. I do not know whether the present government intend to go so far as that, but that would be the logical outcome of the policy and might afford some help for agriculture.

I see my time is almost up and I have not more than half presented the policies which I wanted to present. Let me conclude by urging upon the government some things which they may do immediately to offset the detriment that the present policy may occasion to the farmer. They ought to reduce the interest charges to the western farmer. I do not care how the government does this; it must be done. Farmers at the present price of wheat cannot pay eight per cent interest, and whatever means the government may find it necessary to take to accomplish this end, I urge upon them to do it or pretty soon we shall have no farmers and the entire western country will be owned and controlled by mortgage companies. I think the government has a right to take this step because the mortgage companies are handling the social credit, Canadian governments in the past having delegated their authority to a class of individuals that utilize social credit for their interest and not for that of the nation. Next, the government ought to take some steps to reduce freight rates. How can that be done? I would say: Nationalize the Canadian Pacific, Consolidate the lines and the Canadian National into a great national system. Abolish all waste and competition. Take some of the duplicating lines and place them in districts where at present there are no lines. Reduce the two or three different head offices and sets of authority running these systems and save enough to lower freight rates in the interests of agriculture.

Reduce taxation by imposing a higher tax upon those who can best pay it. Increase the income tax. Reduce freight rates and reduce interest. Let the government do these things and we will forgive them for their policy of protection.

HANDS OFF

The proper care of the hands and the control of the hands are habits that lead to the prevention of disease. These two points must go together because it is not entirely a question of clean hands, but also their proper use. Hands off, while a colloquialism is nevertheless an injunction to be obeyed.

As we go about our daily work or play our hands are almost sure to become soiled. Most of us wash our hands if there is dirt on them, but many persons do not wash the hands if they appear to be clean.

The hands may look perfectly clean and yet they should be washed before preparing food or eating because there is more than a fair chance that some bacteria or germs have been picked up by these hands.

We know that very fortunately for us disease germs die when they are exposed to draught or sunlight. The hands, however, are usually warm and moist, both of which conditions favor the existence of bacteria. If, therefore, bacteria are picked up on the hands they will live for some time. It is evident then that in order to get rid of any disease germs, the hands even, though they show no signs of dirt, should be washed often.

It does not matter if germs are on the hands as long as they stay there. The skin is a barrier to the entrance of germs. The danger of the germs on the hands is that they may be carried into the mouth or nose and then have every chance of causing disease.

This may happen if the person with unwashed hands prepares food or if food is eaten which is touched by the fingers. The entrance of germs into the body may be more direct as when the child sucks his thumb, or when finger nails are bitten, or when the hands go to the face and touch the lips or nose.

We can avoid all the dangers, and they are very real dangers, that threaten us because of carelessness in connection with our hands. We can secure protection by following two rules or developing two habits.

The first rule is never to get your unwashed hands to your face, except when using a handkerchief. There is no good reason why the hands should be continually touching the face and there are several excellent reasons why they should not.

The second rule is never to touch food unless the hands have been thoroughly washed. The habit of washing the hands before eating is of the utmost practical importance in

Errors of Refraction
and
Muscular Imbalances

Are the chief causes of headaches, dizziness, blurred vision and that tired sleepy feeling.

Children often have a very unsatisfactory school report through defective eyesight.

A complete scientific examination will reveal these troubles.
